design week may

The UK's leading design festival

Festival structure

Clerkenwell Design Week is a truly unique event made up of resident design showrooms, curated exhibition venues, installations and brand activations alongside a design-led programme of events and topical talks. There are a number of ways for brands to get involved.

Showrooms

More than 160 showrooms participate to create a stimulating programme of 600+ events. Showrooms that sit within the festival map can apply to take part.

Exhibition venues

Each exhibition has a different curatorial focus covering products for all kinds of interior design projects. Brands can apply to take part in one of the venues.

Installations/brand activations

Striking installations and street spectacles feature along the exhibition route to engage and stimulate visitors. Brands can take part by sponsoring an installation or by activating a space across the festival map.

Visiting Audience

Clerkenwell Design Week attracts an audience of architects, interior designers, buyers, specifiers, members of the press and design enthusiasts who attend for inspiration and to source cutting edge products for upcoming interior design projects.
